This administration just unveiled its final Title X regulations which cut funding for places that provide abortion OR refer patients to abortion providers. It's tantamount to a #DomesticGagRule! Call your representatives and demand they fight against this barbaric roll back of reproductive rights! If we don't stand up and fight back NOW, this video could be the dystopian not-so-distant future of reproductive care in store for us all...

Title X is supposed to be government family planning funding for those who need it, but like everything good now it is under attack by politicians grandstanding. They hate abortion and, get this, any birth control method that's not natural planning! Watch our video about what the scary future of Title X funding could look like, then read this Rewire article about what went down last week! <https://rewire.news/article/2018/11/09/trumps-title-x/>
